New Generation sweeps division

Sullivan New Generation swept the Prep/Unisex Division competition, winning Grand Champion, Best Vocal Sound and Best Choreography at the 28th Annual Midwest Show Choir Invitational in Mt. Zion.

The show featured sixteen groups performing in two different divisions.

The top six competitors drawn from both divisions earned spots in the evening finals. Waubonsie Valley Sound Check from Aurora repeated as Grand Champion for the third straight year in a row, also earning the Best Vocal Sound Award. Their performer Shelby Bias was named Best Female Vocalist in a Competition Performance.

Buffalo Grove Expression finished as first runner up and the People's Choice Award winner, with their performer Brian Pawlak honored as Best Male Vocalist in a Competition Performance.

Wheaton-Warrenville The Classic finished as second runner up and their combo named as Best Instrumental Combo. From Pekin, the Notables received the third runner up award and Pekin Intuition was named Best Stage Crew. Sullivan Singers were honored as fourth runner up followed by Manteno Magic.

The results were as follows:

Program to offer mentoring, tutoring

The Sullivan Community Education Program announced that mentoring and adult tutoring are being offered at the After School Center in conjunction with the Moultrie County Mental Health Center.

Located at 112 S. Hamilton on school days from 3 p.m.-6 p.m. it is for all kindergarten-12th grade

Sullivan school pupils and offers a drink, snack, study time, tutoring and recreational games or activities.

This opportunity will be offered as the result of a grant and community sponsorship by area businesses. It comes at a time when parents might be aware of their children's specific needs in some academic areas of weakness or at a time when it wouldn't be healthy for children to be home alone during the after school hours. The time between 3 p.m.-6 p.m. is when children suffer loneliness and boredom which may cause them to make unhealthy choices.
